

HND in Film and Television - P127

Welcome to Wirral Met College's HND Film and Television course.

If you're passionate about the magic of cinema and the world of television production, this course is designed to equip you with the skills and knowledge needed to thrive in the dynamic and exciting media industry.

COURSE DETAILS

Our HND Film and Television course offers a comprehensive exploration of the theory and practice of filmmaking and television production. Through a blend of hands-on practical work and theoretical study, you'll develop a strong foundation in key areas such as motion graphics, branding, scriptwriting, filming, video editing, pre/post-production techniques, audio recording/editing, lighting, and studio techniques.

Additionally, the course emphasizes academic writing, research, analysis, presentation skills, and collaborative practice to ensure you develop a well-rounded skill set that's highly sought after in the industry.

This course is broken down into 2 units per year of study:

Year 1 (Level 4):

- A1 Concept & Development
- A2 Creative Project

Year 2 (Level 5):

- B1 Personal Professional Development
- B2 Professional Project

ENTRY GUIDELINES

- Entry is open to students with relevant qualifications at level 3 such as Access to Higher Education Diploma in any subject with Pass, Merit profile or other related Level 3 qualifications, such as an Extended Diploma or A-Levels.
- Applicants should have GCSE Maths and English grade 4/C and above.
- Students who do not satisfy the entry criteria may be eligible by interview and evidence of relevant industry experience.
- Mature learners may present a more varied profile of achievement that is likely to include extensive work experience (paid or unpaid) and possibly also achievement of a range of professional qualifications in their work sector.
- If English is not your first language, you may need an assessment before enrolling on this course. To discuss further, please contact the ESOL department on 0151 551 7144.

We welcome applicants with a genuine passion for filmmaking and television production, regardless of academic background.
